Parent-Child Relationship & Instilling Lifelong Values

The Role of Leadership in Nurturing a Spiritually-Minded and Sustainable Future

by Swami Purnamritananda Puri, one of the senior members of Amma's organization

Thu, November 19th, 2014, 9:45 Yoga Studio

Swami Purnamritananda Puri, a senior sannyasi disciple of Mata Amritanandamayi Devi (also known as 'Amma' or 'The Hugging Saint'). He will be delivering a talk offering practical advice about the importance of meditation throughout childhood and adult life as well as be discussing how to properly guide children through life's many challenges.

Along with his insights into the importance of spiritual practices, Swamiji has an academic background in the sciences and has played the harmonium for Amma's bhajans for a number of years. This accomplished flautist and sweet tempered man has endeared many all over the world. It is a special treat to have Swami return again to the Green school to offer his time to share wisdom about the beauty of our relationships with our children, families and the world around us.

Swamiji's biographical details:

1. one of the senior-most sannyasi disciples of Amma;
2. General Secretary of the Mata Amritanandamayi Math;
3. in charge of the Ernakulam ashram in Kerala; the ashram campus includes both the Cochin Campus of the Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham (Amrita University) and the Ernakulam Amrita Vidyalayam premises;
4. Swami in charge of Japan, visiting Japan every year to conduct satsang-and-bhajan programs, retreats, and IAM courses;
5. Swami has composed many popular bhajans, he is an accomplished flautist, for many years, he was also Amma's harmonium player;
6. Swami is an engineer by training, and he was working as a research scientist.
7. his early experiences with Amma have been compiled into the best-selling ashram publication 'Unforgettable Memories' - a sweet temperament and simplicity have endeared him to many all over the world, both children and adults alike.
